MORE ON THE PARK

The first step in the movement for a Brazos county park is the location of it. The location must be chosen from three angles: 1. The natural advantages; 2. Located as near the geographical and population center as possible; 3. Located with a view to the financial expenditure involved.

After the location or site has been secured, then the improvement and equipment of it could be taken up from time to time and be a matter of stages or consistent progress. Different organizations of the city or county could take up certain parts of the task and would no doubt be glad to do so. The different community clubs could each take a share of the responsibility and see that certain features were incorporated.

As to the natural advantages, it should be spacious enough to meet all present-day purposes and provide for the expansion of the county's population; it must have plenty of shade and plenty of breeze; it must have a good road leading to it from as many directions as possible and have plenty of parking space for automobiles of those who visit it; there must be good drainage, and there must be as many natural facilities for putting up equipment and improvements as possible; good drinking water of ample supply, spring preferred, is an absolute necessity. There are other things about the location which will occur to everyone but it must of necessity be as near the geographical center and the center of population as possible in order that the whole county might enjoy it. And it should be located with the least possible cost. Some civic-minded local citizen should be willing to donate sufficient land for this worthy cause.

"OUR COUNTRY CLUB"

We are wondering how many here in Bryan know how much the Country Club means and how many are enjoying its privileges. We are apt to think that an institution like that is exclusive and does not make for the happiness of many. This is not correct of "our Country Club." Let me tell you some of the things I saw there one evening last week.

It was one of those very hot days and a friend of mine took me out for a drive and we entered the grounds. I expected to see the porch lined with ladies doing fancy work and the men out on the golf course. I was disappointed.

First we went to the swimming pool and there were whole families in bathing and having so good a time. The kiddies, you mean. I mean nothing of the sort. There were kiddies but with them were the mothers and fathers, all swimming or teaching the others to do so. Such a merry crowd enjoying simple pleasure.

Next I was invited to have lunch at the picnic grounds. Yes, regular box lunch under the trees in picnic style. There were small tables that accommodated sixteen and these were crowded, a family to each table. They told me that often these tables were each used by three groups in turn on the same evening. I did not hear a single jarring note, all happy and contented in the simplest way.

Then I heard more noise in the pool. They told me that was caused by the business men from town and the returned golfers. Judging by the noise and laughter they were numerous patrons at pleasure.

As we drove out I heard the strains of music and could see the dancers with the older ones sitting around looking on. I could not help using the expression that this is "our Country Club," an institution for good, for simple pleasures are good for both the old and young.

"It suits me fine," said a friend of mine this morning as he was interviewed on the question of the weather. That is taking it with a smile of common sense, and we suggest it be emulated by the mournful moppers who meet. The high brow and the low brow are all of late living in the sweat of their brow. For "dog days" in Texas keep us all pressed into service mopping away the beaded drops of moisture on our fevered brows. But why worry, forget it. Smile, and it will even smooth away the sting of heat.

Health hint—Corn liquor and 100 in the shade give the grave digger a very brisk trade. —Dallas Times Herald.

Sick hint—Let the filth in open places stand and you'll take a trip to the Promised Land.

"No philosophy has ever improved upon the Golden Rule, and the most gorgeous tapestry of trickery looks like a rag alongside the simple beauties of a square deal."

This is just between ourselves, don't you think it time we were harvesting our weed crops on some of the vacant lots and streets in town?

Isn't it queer, whenever a politician wants to get out of the race he always pleads on account of ill health.

KINDNESS VS. COMPARISON

As the country becomes more densely populated, as luxuries creep into the homes and a small bank balance accumulates, the individual feels, "Well, I can take care of myself now; let the others do the same" and that cordiality that once permeated, and which is so highly desirable, is gone and gone forever. In some ways we wish that we might again endure the privations of the early frontier days, that it might bring back some of the feeling of closer kinship between man and families that then prevailed.—Bryan Eagle.

But was there really such close friendship and fine feeling between the pioneer families? Wasn't there a good deal of fighting and a tendency towards feuds between settlements and between families? Doesn't feud warfare today exist in its most gorgeous development in those isolated, deprived, unprosperous regions which retain the closest resemblance to the frontier days? Isn't there a good deal of romance and pretty legend attached to the supposed hospitality, generosity and camaraderie of the pioneering times? Many fine old gentlemen in fine old country houses dispensed a liberal hospitality to those who could bring them news or entertain them with conversation. This was because, for one reason, the fine old gentlemen in the fine old houses were lonely. And the fine old ladies had plenty of servants for the house and an abundance of raw materials for the cook. The fine old gentlemen had their likes and dislikes, and it is not recorded that they were especially hospitable or kind to those who were unpopular with them. If the measure of human kindness were taken from the relative number of public hospitals, orphanages, old folks' home, insane asylums, clean prisons, private philanthropists of today and of half a hundred years ago, would it not show the present in a more favorable light than the past? Wouldn't it? It would.—State Press in Dallas News.

State Press seems to think that we are asking for something that never existed. And to prove his contentions, he speaks of the feuds of those days and deplores the lack of intane asylums, hospitals, old folks' homes, then unknown. We grant you that there are many more of the latter than in the old days for the simple reason that efficiency has taken the place of the old-fashioned kindness, all of which we are not sure is for the better. We wonder if State Press really knows of those good old days. Today when our friends are ill or in trouble we telephone the florist to send flowers, or we leave our card at the door of the home and hurry on to our daily tasks, but in the good old days our ancestors entered the stricken house by the back door, armed not with a calling card, but with a calico apron and they waded into the housework. Yes, if needs be, the wash tub. No hired hands performed these deeds, but the willing hands of the neighbor who knew the need. At night, after a hard day's work, the men sat up with the sick one and in a kindly way did for him or her. Today we have the efficient nurse, but is the world's neighborly spirit any the better for it. Be as it may, we still long for the day that will somehow restore those kindly acts that really made the "whole neighborhood kin."

MRS. BARRY AS LEADER

In selecting Mrs. Maggie W. Barry to be chairman of the department of the American Home, the new board of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at their biennial meeting in Los Angeles, California, has honored College Station and Bryan and the State of Texas in which the entire citizenship rejoices. We who know Mrs. Barry best for her outstanding activity as a leader of thought in extension work and home making have no fears as to the result of her leadership. The creation of this department was the first official act of the new president, Mrs. Sherman. Of the difficult subject of training women for the vocation of home-making and helping the women who are already home-makers. Mrs. Barry has made herself a student and the result of this study will be given throughout these United States through the club women of the country. A talented speaker with a store house of wit and knowledge, she carries with her the conviction of the thoughts and convince her hearers. In matters of civic moment always glad to give of her time and of her high order of intelligence. She is a citizen to be honored and justly proud of. This is an important department of the Federation and its success will be watched with interest by both men and women throughout the land.

THE SAMS WERE THERE

Of course it goes without saying the Texas Press Association meeting at Amarillo was a success when the Sam Club held their annual reunion and had everything their own way. Sam Harbin, Sam Fore, Sam Holloway, Sam Miller, Sam Hoyle and a few other Sams did the convention. They not only did the work but they did the eating, the swimming, the speaking, the riding, and everything else there was to do. Sam Harbin was re-elected secretary, which bespeaks for another successful year for the association and the Sam Club.

A clergyman, accompanied by two charming girls, stood admiring the beauties of a little stream. An angler passing by said: "Any sport?" "Sir, I am a fisher of men," replied the parson with dignity. "Well," retorted the fisherman, glancing admiringly at the girls, "you've got the right bait." —Birmingham Morning Sun.

Those who have known a great love and a great sorrow possess a reality of God that is missed by those who have not known this experience. The sufferer knows that God's love is sufficient to keep him unto that day.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

California Fruit Stories.

Frank A. Briggs, editor of the Farm and Ranch, calls attention to a series of articles written by T. C. Richardson, field editor of Farm and Ranch, but formerly with the Bryan Eagle, on production and marketing of fruits and vegetables in California. Mr. Richardson is now in California making a close study of the California plan, or method, and the series of articles which he is soon to write will give the people of Texas and in visiting experiment stations, lems, the solution of which has brought prosperity to the people of California.

Value of Short Course.

Under the heading, "Make Your Good Road Pay," C. A. Cobb, of the Southern Ruralist, has, among other things, the following to say, "No better use can be made of the automobile and our good roads than to use them in attending short courses and in visiting experiment stations. There is no debating the question as to whether the time it will take to do this will be profitably spent or not. It will be." This is not merely so with the people of Georgia, Alabama, or Tennessee, but it is applicable to the people of Texas—yes, Brazos county—where the people can attend every day of the entire Short Course and return each day, if they choose, to their homes, thus making the cost nothing in comparison with what those coming hundreds of miles will have to pay. One might not be interested in every subject receiving attention during the Short Course, but certainly he would find many things that would be helpful to him when he returned to the farm. Above all, arrangements should be made for your boys and your girls to attend the Short Course, an institution planned to give in condensed form, the knowledge it has required a lifetime of study and research to acquire.

Mrs. Broach Makes Profit.

Mrs. J. L. Broach of Tabor in her "farm life contest letter" to the Farm and Ranch says that there six things that will insure to the farmer and his family happiness and success in life: "1. To own your own home. (2) To improve this home and beautify your grounds. (3) To practice diversification and have a cow, sow and hen combination. (4) To plan and work for social betterment of your community. (5) To do your part in having good roads. (6) To plan and work for a co-operative system of marketing." In speaking in this same article concerning her own poultry industry, Mrs. Broach says, "From 200 Single Comb White Leghorn hens I have made this year a profit of $609, after paying $500 for feed. Besides this, I still have my flock of thirty purebred Mammoth Bronze turkeys, that I intend to sell for breeding purposes."

Scrub Rooster Faces Trial.

The trial of the "scrub rooster" to be held at the club encampment on Friday night, June 27, at the Fin-Feather Club, is already attracting attention throughout the country, notwithstanding our suggestion about not discussing this case before a jury is drawn. Judge West of Grimes county has been asked to preside at this trial. The prosecution will have, among many others, Hon. W. S. Barron, famous as a Grimes county product, and F. W. Krimeier, a man who frowns every time he sees a scrub chicken. It is, therefore, likely that the prosecution will be merciless. Among the leading counsel for the defense will be Hon. Law Henderson, County Agent C. L. Beason, all of whose hearts are filled with grateful remembrance of the many bowls of soup made from the scrub rooster when the counsel for the defense were boys wearing the proverbial hickory kimonos of by-gone days.

Plant Feed Crops Now.

Now that the rains have come, we should not fail to provide for ample feed crops. It is not too late for maize, sorghum, peanuts and peas. Farmers whose corn is already a failure could do no better thing than plant peas in the middles. It is said that the value of seed peas produced in the United States is more than thirty million dollars, but the value of the crop for human and nitrogen for the soil is many times of the seed alone. Surely there is no place where the lanes here need more humus than here in Brazos county.

Making the Soil Produce.

Some one overheard a conversation on the train some days ago, the gist of which was that the A. and M. College of Texas was located at College Station because there was to be found the poorest land in Texas, and that if the College could make good on such soil it would be certain that its "preachments" would do to follow anywhere. A trip through the Experiment Farm, where may be seen a wonderful harvest of oats, should convince the most skeptical that the finest oats may be grown in Brazos county. All will remember the unproductive land just south of the Kyle Field, which the Agronomy Department of the College has made to fruit as the vine and blossom as the rose. Notwithstanding the most unfavorable season this year, the Agronomy Department has on this land corn that would compare favorably with the corn of Iowa and Illinois. There is a reason, but it is no secret. You may profit by this wonderful work of your College simply by the "asking." Is the price too much? We sometimes hear criticism passed on the College because of some poor crop that may be seen growing, when perhaps the particular crop observed was one intended to show that a good crop could not be produced by the use of methods such as were used on this particular plot. Possibly a trip over the Experiment Farm would reveal the fact that you are using these methods that are certain of failure year after year, but near by there might be observed a better way leading to success. The choice is yours. Which will you take? The county agents, the "pipeline" of the College, will gladly bring you the information from the several departments of your college.

Annual Encampment.

The Annual Educational Encampment for the boys and girls Agricultural and Home Economic Clubs will be held at the Fin-Feather Club Lake, near Bryan, Friday and Saturday, June 27th and 28th. All club members are cordially invited to attend this meeting planned for mutual pleasure and profit. Each club member will bring such blankets, sheets, etc., as may be needed to sleep on at night. Each one should provide food sufficient to last through Friday night and Saturday morning, asking your parents to bring basket lunch and join you Saturday for dinner. In the event your people cannot bring your dinner on Saturday, then it is suggested that you prepare a special basket of food that will keep. Your other food, to be served along with others in camp style, should consist of bacon, fresh eggs, light bread, etc., and such things as will keep. Your clothing should be simple and such that will permit play and taking part in games and contests. Your record book filled out to date will be your pass into the camp. In the event you have misplaced, or lost your record book, it is suggested that you bring your notes, or data, along and fill out your book after you arrive at camp. Each club member should bring towel, comb, soap, etc., all girl bring style show dresses, but not other sewing. Chaperones will be in charge of boys and girls day and night and no club member will be permitted to remain in camp who does not cheerfully abide by the regulations of the camp. Registration will begin Friday morning at nine o'clock. Dinner at one o'clock, camp style. Friday afternoon, general amusements; Friday night, trial of the scrub rooster. Saturday morning, poultry and livestock judging. Saturday noon, basket lunch, picnic style. Saturday, 2 p. m., style show. Breaking camp at 4 p. m.

County Agent Gets Gift.

County Agent C. L. Beason is grateful to John Kopecky, owner of Far View Farm, 7 miles west of Bryan, near the Little Brazos, for some fine Irish potatoes, grown from certified seed planted late in March. These potatoes are the finest we have seen this season.

Pecan Budding Demonstration.

A. P. Swallow, horticulturist of the Extension Service, and District Agent A. W. Buchanan, assisted County Agent C. L. Beason last Friday in conducting pecan budding demonstrations at Kurten, Edna and Zaek. Mr. Swallow stated that the land along Bee and Cedar creeks is very fine for the propagation of paper-shell pecans, and advised these people having land along these streams to pay more attention to the wonderful possibilities of the pecan industry on such soil. Henry Kurten, W. H. Buchanan, E. J. Payne, Claude Moore, F. W. Locke and others have hundreds of small native trees that would be easily budded with paper shell pecan buds. Mr. Swallow called attention to the fact that through team work the people of a West Texas county had put out this season more than 200,000 buds, fifty to seventy-five per cent of which had lived. Chas. Merka of Smetana has a fine pecan orchard started from working over native trees. R. Q. Astin, owner of Dawn Haven Farm will put out ten acres of paper shell pecans next fall. Soon Brazos county will take the lead in pecan production, as she is already taking the lead in many other things. Come to Brazos county, the home of the A. and M. College.

Club Meeting at Edge.

Fine club meet at Edge Monday night. The Edge boys and girls are out for big game this year. They say no ammunition will be spent on shooting at sparrows in the future.

HOPPERS MENACING CROPS AROUND TABOR

A phone message early Tuesday morning from J. W. Harris of Tabor community to County Agent C. L. Beason stated that grasshoppers were menacing crops in that vicinity. Poison mash will be recommended as the best method of control, said County Agent Beason.

KING'S HIGHWAY

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle.) KINGS HIGHWAY, June 24.—Old Sol has finally awakened to the fact that this is "cotton time in Dixie," and is doing his best to aid the farmer. This section has about caught up with its cotton, or rather the weeds and grass.

L. F. Mangis reports cotton in bloom at the Sam E. Cavitt ranch, 5 miles west of this locality. Grasshoppers are destroying the cotton, but although very numerous here, no particular damage has been done. Corn is badly in need of rain.

Arthur Corgey, residing between Edge and Macy, reports seeing two big yellow wolves early one morning near his place. A hunting party is being formed for next Thursday, to capture the prowlers, as there are quite a number of sheep in this community. Sheep shearing is being completed.

Mattison Corgey and daughter Velma, have gone to Dallas to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dyess of Harvey were here today.

PROF. MANGUM RETURNS FROM VISIT EAST TEXAS AND REPORTS CROPS GOOD

Prof. P. S. Mangum of Edge was in town today and reports he has just returned from a trip through East Texas, where he in company with Prof. G. M. Ammons, J. L. Hurff and L. N. Tyler are selling school supplies in Shelby, Rusk, Pampa, Harris and Gregg counties. Prof. Mangum says crops in East Texas are good, every farmer is up with his work and is enjoying a vacation. There is no discussion or any particular interest in politics over that way, said Mr. Mangum.

BRYAN BOASTS BEST STREETS ANYWHERE SAYS GOOSE CREEK MAN

"Bryan is a splendid town. I can see wonderful improvements in the seven years I have been away from here. No town the size of Bryan in this state can boast of as many fine paved streets," said G. C. Royder of Goose Creek, who is here on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Hugo Jahn. Mr. Royder formerly lived in Brazos county and left here seven years ago for Goose Creek where he is an oil field worker.

BONDS CARRIED FOR RESURFACING OF BRYAN'S MAIN STREET

In the city election held yesterday to vote $15,000 bonds for re-surfacing Main Street of Bryan, as usual those who were unfavorable registered their vote, but those in favor of the measure failed to go to the polls. There was a very light vote cast, only 84 votes, 78 in favor and 6 against, making almost a free silver 16 to 1 landslide. Voting boxes were at the Fire Station and polls opened at 8 o'clock a. m. and closed at 7 o'clock p. m. A. K. Brown, presiding judge; Paul Dansby and S. M. Bird, assistant judges, and J. W. Hamilton, clerk.

GABE CAZELL, JUNIOR, ENTERTAINS NUMBER FRIENDS BIRTHDAY

Gabe Cazell, Jr., the manly little son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Cazell of this city, celebrated his seventh birthday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Nannie Rohde, Friday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock. Thirty-five little friends were invited to enjoy the occasion with him, and this they did beyond the shadow of a doubt. The broad porch and the pretty lawn were adorned with flowers and hanging fern baskets, and rugs and chairs arranged to make an ideal place for this birthday party.

The gallant young host met his little friends with a cordial greeting, and made every minute of the time a pleasure for them and for himself. Games of all kinds were played, but the one giving the most thrills of joy was the "bear's den." Up in a tree was a mysterious place, and a big black bear was there to assure the kiddies that it was a "bear's den." The "den" could be approached only by means of a ladder placed up against the tree, and which the boys and girls must climb if they found the secret souvenirs contained within that "den." Another pleasure was a lolly-pop tree, where real candy drops were growing, awaiting only the picking by the kiddies. The birthday cake with its seven candles was cut, and ice cream and cake was served.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Mrs. Ida Ross Wilson of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is here attending the reunion. Mrs. Wilson is a member of the Clement A. Evans Chapter, U. D. C., of Tulsa. A woman of high intellect she is doing a splendid work in educational affairs as dean of women at Tulsa University, Oklahoma. She is the daughter of Capt. Madison Ross of Houston, one of the most beloved members of the Brigade who is attending the reunion.

MRS. COULTER GIVEN SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER ON SUNDAY

At Fin-Feather Club House, Sunday, June 22, Mrs. J. W. Coulter was honor guest at a beautifully planned chicken barbecue, given to her on her birthday, as a surprise by her children. Mrs. Coulter always busily engaged in making other people happy, had not thought of the day, even being her birthday, and so the surprise was sincere and delightful. Around the pretty table where the delicious spread was enjoyed, were seated Mrs. Coulter, Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Coulter and Miss Helen Coulter of Rockdale, Walter J. Coulter, Mrs. Dona Carnes and the little grand son, Coulter Hoppers. Brilliant zenias were used in the decoration, and ferns were placed in the dining room adding beauty and taking a pretty background for the happy family gathering in honor of the beloved mother. The birthday cake, presented to Mrs. Coulter by a neighbor friend, was brought to the table with the tapers burning, and was the first intimation to Mrs. Coulter that the occasion was planned for her birthday. Many beautiful gifts from her children, and flowers, candy and fruits in abundance from thoughtful and loving friends, also added joy to the day, and assured this dear mother that she is beloved by all.

RAIN INTERFERED IN SMETANA-SUGAR HILL BASE BALL GAME SUNDAY

The baseball teams of Smetana and Sugar Hill were engaged in a hotly-contested game at Sugar Hill Sunday afternoon when the rain came up so suddenly and down so violently that the players and spectators fled for shelter.

CIVIL WAR ROMANCE REVIVED BY FINDING BIT OF PARCHMENT

(By Associated Press.) ATLANTA, Ga., June 24.—A bottle containing a bit of parchment with the name "Prudence Bainbridge" dug up by a steam shovel in the down town district has revived the civil war romance and tragedy of a New England bride who followed her soldier husband through Sherman's campaign and died while her husband marched "from Atlanta to the sea." He searched in vain until his death in 1903 to find her grave, said a story published in the Atlanta Constitution today.

Many of his letters to acquaintances here contained money to be used in an effort to locate her grave and the finding of the bottle recalled the story. Prudence, aged 19, successfully concealed her identity throughout Sherman's campaign up to the capture of Atlanta, but when the Northern Army cut loose from its basis, Prudence was left behind in Atlanta. The strain of her hardships brought on a fever and when her husband could return to Atlanta the house where he had left her had been burned and all trace of her was gone.

A skull found near the bottle was saved by J. J. Kelly, the excavating contractor.

CHAMBER COMMERCE DISCUSSED COLLEGE ROAD MEETING TODAY

President John M. Lawrence reported, at the Chamber of Commerce meeting at 10 o'clock this morning at the Chamber rooms, on the action of the special committee consisting of Jno. M. Lawrence, Judge H. O. Ferguson, Ike Ashburn, W. S. Barron, Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, who with Dr. W. B. Bizzell and J. E. Covey, held a meeting on Monday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 3 o'clock to discuss the College road proposition. This special committee was appointed at the special meeting of the Board of Directors on Thursday morning, last week.

Hubbard Is Invited.

It was decided, according to President Lawrence, that this committee should go before the state highway commission, at its next regular meeting, and ask that the state commission, through its maintenance department, widen and resurface the Bryan-College road. Judge Ferguson instructed to invite Chairman Hubbard to come to Bryan in order that he might make a personal inspection of the road, but he could not come at this time. However, efforts will be made to have him come before the regular meeting the first Monday in July. The committee has filed an application before the highway commission to be acted on at the next regular meeting.

Plans for Reunion.

Mayor Tyler Haswell, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported that all plans and arrangements have been perfected for the entertainment of Hood's Brigade. Homes have been secured, and Jno. B. Hood, Jr., will arrive today to attend the meeting. Mr. Haswell also asked that every member of the Board of Directors and business men and citizens of Bryan, attend the opening of Hood's Brigade reunion at 9:30 on Wednesday morning.

The School Situation.

Mayor Haswell further reported that the city commission had appointed a committee to inspect sites looking to the future location of school buildings as the present ones are wholly inadequate to care for the number of children in Bryan. This brought up a general discussion on school matters in which a number of directors participated, including President F. L. Henderson of the Bryan School Board; L. L. McNis of the Board of City Commissioners; E. E. McAdams, city manager. It seemed that a revision of the city charter was favored in order to take care of the future needs of the school system of the city.

Report On Amarillo Trip.

A. M. Waldrop, member of the School Board, stated that he doubted if but few of the members of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce ever visited the schools and that when school opened in the fall, he was going to ask and insist that the entire board of directors adjourn to the school houses that they might see the conditions with reference to being crowded, etc.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree reported on her recent trip to Amarillo to the convention of the Texas State Press Association, stating it was most hot out there, the thermometer hovering around the 110 mark. She said that many of the press delegates wanted to come to Bryan some time for a convention and that she stated to them that Bryan was not yet ready for them as no adequate facilities were available to care for such a large number of people.

M. E. Wallace, who also attended the press meeting at Amarillo, making the trip there and back by car, stated that he was much impressed with the good roads, most of which were paved, and that he recalled but two counties that had what he could term bad roads. He said that he found a world of traffic passing over these roads. He closed by saying that all the towns along the way boasted of fine modern school buildings.

Those present were: Wilbur Bradley, W. H. Cole, J. N. Dulany, Eugene Edge, E. J. Fountain, Judge H. O. Ferguson, Mayor Tyler Haswell, F. L. Henderson, J. M. Gordon, John M. Lawrence, T. K. Lawrence, E. E. McAdams, J. D. Martin, Oak McKenzie, L. L. McNis, M. L. Parker, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, A. M. Waldrop, D. L. Wilson, M. E. Wallace. John A. Moore was a visitor; also County Agent C. L. Beason.

J. W. Lawless of Kurten was in Bryan today.

POISON MASH GIVEN KILL GRASSHOPPERS

(R. R. Reppert, Entomologist, A. and M. College)

While the poison mash advised for grasshoppers is obtaining generally good results, we have several complaints that it was ineffective. In every one of these instances we have found that directions in mixing and applying in some way or other had not been carefully carried out. In one case the farmer had allowed the drugist to convince him that calcium arsenate would do as a poison instead of the white arsenic. Be sure that what you get is "white arsenic" or Paris green.

In another instance the bran mash had been put out in piles over a small part of the field. The poison mash we have advised has been used for many years in many states and under all conditions and secures the best results when sown thinly and evenly over the entire infested area. Don't think that you have an unusual condition that requires a departure from our recommendations.

In still another instance water taken from a barrel formerly containing creosote dip was used to mix the mash. The order of creosote in this water was so pronounced as to repel the grasshoppers. Lemons are used to attract the insects to the bait, and the use of such water serves to neutralize this attraction.

Other mistakes are doubtless being made on various farms. The above instances will give point to our statement, expressed in our former letter, to "mix and apply the bran mash exactly as directed, leaving out no part." We may add "and putting nothing else in."

Another thing to be said in connection with this formula is that result as indicated by dead grasshoppers, should not be expected too soon. Very few grasshoppers die from the effects of the poison the first 24 hours, and it will not be until the second day that a great many grasshoppers are found. They will continue to die from the effects of poisoning for a week or more.

MANY GRADUATES OF BRYAN HIGH SCHOOL WILL ENTER COLLEGE

Superintendent Madison Hall of the City Schools is busy at this season sending credits of Bryan High School graduates the past year to different schools and colleges and universities over Texas and the South in order that the pupils may be enrolled in classes there this fall without being required to take entrance examinations. Mr. Hall reports that the work and credits of Bryan High are being accepted gladly by every institution.

Among those who have already made their decisions as to the school of higher learning which they will attend are: Ben Kaplan, Tulane University, where he will take a pre-medical course; Annie Vanderwerth, C. I. A., at Denton; Willie Belle Powers, S. M. U., at Dallas; Josephine Crute and Susie Mae Sanders, both to C. I. A., at Denton; Allister Waldrop, A. and M. College.

Fritz Vanderwerth, who made a record for distinguished work in his studies, left Bryan today at noon for Chicago, to enter the Coyne Electrical Schools, one of the largest of its kind in the United States. He will be away several months and will complete a course in electricity.

Other students expecting to attend college or higher schools should make known their choice to Superintendent Hall that he may send their credits there before he leaves on his summer vacation, that they will be properly and duly received by Fall.

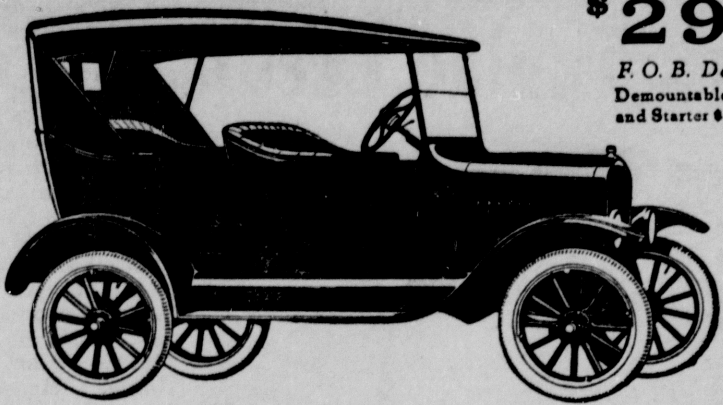

O. O. HENDERSON HOME RANSACKED BY BOY MONDAY AFTERNOON

Monday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Henderson returned home from College, Mrs. Henderson entered the home first and found some one had been in the house, ransacking drawers, grips, etc. On further investigation she located the intruder in the kitchen. Both were somewhat surprised. Mrs. Henderson screamed and the culprit, a boy jumped from a window and ran. After a chase over the neighborhood, the boy was caught and brought in to First Deputy Sheriff J. E. Covey, who now has the lad in custody. The boy, who gave his name as Derwood Dickinson of Dallas. The father is being communicated with in regard to the predicament in which the lad has gotten himself.

Pepsinated Calomel Is Better than the Old-Time Sickening Kind

It is gentle, imported English Calomel, combined with Pepsin and other helpful ingredients. It is mild but certain, causing no harshness or unpleasantness and will absolutely relieve indigestion, biliousness, bad colds, constipation and sick headaches. And best of all it does it at once—quickly and pleasantly. Take one small tablet at bed-time and you will get up hungry and feeling fine. Recommended by

MRS. A. J. BUCHANAN DELIVERS THE WELCOME ADDRESS TO VETERANS AS PRESIDENT OF UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

"Members of Hood's Brigade, Visitors, Ladies and Gentlemen: From June-time to June-time in Bryan the annual reunion of Hood's Texas Brigade is a happy thought in the hearts of the citizenship of this city. This is the Fifty-third annual reunion held in Texas, and the fourth held in Bryan—now the permanent meeting place of the Brigade—we hope to make the brightest and best in its history.

As the president of L. S. Ross Chapter, No. 100, United Daughters of the Confederacy of Bryan, I come today to speak added words of welcome to each and every one of you. I bring a sincere welcome to every member of the Brigade, to every visitor present, and also to the life secretary—the general council and honored directress of this occasion—Miss Katie Daffan. How the members of this Brigade, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the people of Texas and the South love and honor her for the noble service, the loyal love and untiring devotion she has given to the affairs of Hood's Texas Brigade!

The True Story.
"I do not know how to bring to this assembled body of heroes a formal welcome, but I bring to you an old fashioned Southern welcome, from the heart—a welcome from the Daughters of the Confederacy to the heroes of the Confederacy, from the daughters of Confederate soldiers to their father's comrades at arms. A welcome into our hearts and home, and to every inch of Bryan and surrounding community.

"Myself, a daughter of a Confederate soldier, when I look upon the 'Stars and Bars', and hear again the old time songs and legends of the Confederacy, I feel the rebel blood tingling in my own veins, and it makes me know again that I am one of you, and I am proud of my heritage. If my old dad were living—bless his memory—he would be right here today to help 'fight' it all over again, if need be. He was not of Hood's Brigade, but, Captain of Co. 'D', 10th Alabama Regiment, and no braver soldier ever wore the grey. In my childhood I was taught first-hand the true and correct history of the Confederacy, and my soul is stirred today as I recall vivid pictures of the 'strife', often told me by him—pictures that will never fade from my memory as a life lasts.

Age Is Wisdom.
"As you have met here today for another annual reunion—another season of reminiscence and pleasant association, we, the people of Bryan want you to know that we thank God for His preserving care over you and yours, since your meeting in June 1923.

"We are thankful that in His wise providence your lives have been spared to again meet with us as honored guests. You are to us an inspiration, you are as lights upon a hill leading us on to nobler living, and renewing within us that courage and patriotic fervor that we so much need to help us do the right and noble things of life.

"Your years have been many upon this earth and we thank God for that too, and we would sit at your feet and learn from you, more and more of life and its philosophy. Age is experience crystallized—Age is initiative worked out; Age is the dream come true. Age is not the mere piling up of years. Many a man young at 30, and many a man young at 80. So, with you, your years count for naught while that undying spirit of the Confederate soldier is still twinkling in your eyes.

Old-Fashioned Welcome.
"Bryan, as a thriving city, boasts many honors in her past history, and is striving for a great place in the inviting future that lies before her, but her crowning glory is, today and will ever be in the past, that Hood's Brigade chose this city as its permanent reunion home. And so, this old fashioned welcome that I bring today to every member of Hood's Brigade, and its beloved secretary, Miss Daffan, is not alone for this occasion, but for all time, and for all eternity. The Daughters of the Confederacy of Bryan bid me say:—'Welcome, thrice welcome, to you all'."

I. M. COOK LOST BIG TWO STORY BARN IN FIRE FRIDAY MORNING

The big two-story barn at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Cook of the Steep Hollow community, burned to the ground at an early hour Friday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, Mr. and Mrs. Cook being awakened about 12:30 a. m., and finding the entire top story of the building in flames. The barn and all contents were totally destroyed, and as no insurance was carried, the financial loss, estimated at $3,300, was heavy, not to mention the inconvenience of being without the barn. Among the contents burned were one new farm wagon, 100 bushels of corn, farm implements, one buggy, seed Irish potatoes and many other valuable articles which had been stored in the barn for the summer.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, while regretting with them the loss of this up-to-date farm barn and its contents, rejoice to learn that all their fine cows and calves, which generally are housed in the barn, were out, and all of them were saved.

Mrs. W. S. Adams of San Antonio and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of Beaumont are here on a visit to their mother, Mrs. J. N. Cole.

G. D. BURKHALTER OF WELLBORN HAS NOVEL HOPPER EXTERMINATOR

Poison-spraying machines and spreading of poison mash may kill the grasshoppers, after a great deal of personal labor and financial expense, but G. D. Burkhalter of Wellborn, according to County Agent C. L. Beason, goes either of these plans one better. In the past few days he has gone out over the surrounding country and bought up all the flocks of turkeys that were salable. In addition, flocks that could not be bought he has borrowed, to return in a few months, without charge for their feed.

In order to see that the turkeys are good workers on the job, Mr. Burkhalter has secured a herder for them, to keep them in the cotton fields and to see that they don't shirk. How he is going to compel them to eat when appetites are fully satisfied, is not known, but the desire of turkeys for the luscious grasshopper is like the appetite of a growing boy for pie and cake and other more substantial food-stuffs and there is no doubt but that Mr. Burkhalter is going to get rid of the 'hopper menace.

In addition to that, is buying up these young turkeys at about 50 cents each. There is nothing that they will thrive and fatten on more than the feed he is offering them. By fall he will have hundreds of fine turkeys, fat and ready for the holiday market where they will bring a good price. Instead of losing to protect his crops, he is going to make a gain at the same time. That is efficiency.

YOUNG MEN'S CLASS METHODIST CHURCH PARTY FIN-FEATHER

In true Methodist fashion was the bountiful repast served and eaten on Friday night when the Young Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist church gave a barbecue party at the Fin-Feather Club house. A large crowd gathered about 8 o'clock and at 8:30 they filed into the banquet hall where a long table was laden with fine things to eat. Barbecued meat of four different kinds were passed: chicken, beef, pork and mutton; which, with fresh tomatoes, bread, onions, pickles, etc., soon got the entire crowd in the best of humor. Then to cap the climax came the waiter with bottles of soda water and the strongest other drinks that Volstead permits, topped with generous-sized dishes of ice cream and wafers. The evening was spent socially and with music, after which the party broke up at a late hour.

Many In Attendance.
The following were in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Lawrence, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Crenshaw, Mr. and Mrs. O. McKenzie and children, Mildred, Kirby and Oak, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Graham, C. S. Beckwith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beard and H. C. Jr.; H. A. They report a very enjoyable trip with no car trouble or delay until they reached Bremond where rain overtook them.

METHODIST BARBECUE AT WELLBORN NETTED CHURCH ABOUT $150

On Wednesday night, June 18, the members of the Methodist church at Wellborn staged a big barbecue with cake, pie and all the other accessories, a large crowd being present, both from Wellborn community itself and from other parts of the county, including Millican, Bryan and College, some even coming up from Navasota. Mrs. T. J. Harrold of Wellborn, one of those who sponsored the barbecue and promoted its success, was in Bryan on Thursday morning and stated that the entertainment had netted them about $150 which will go into the piano fund to purchase the piano for the church. The ladies were much pleased over the outcome of the barbecue.

ESCAPED CONVICT FROM BURLESON COUNTY FOUND IN BRYAN AND ARRESTED

Information gleaned after locating officers late Friday afternoon is to the effect that Peter Domit, a white man, is resting in the county jail, where he is being held pending his transfer to Burleson county where he is wanted, having escaped from the Valley Fork Farm in the Brazos Bottom in that county. He was recognized in Bryan by one Mr. Patterson, a farmer whose place neighbors or borders that of the Valley Fork Farm, as one of the Smith Brothers Paving Company men, for which firm he has been working for the past week or more. He notified Constable Harvey Weeden and Deputy Sheriff Charley Saxon who secured the man and took him to the jail. The nature of the crime for which he had been incarcerated was not learned.

NEGRO COUNTY FAIR BEEN POSTPONED TO AUGUST 15 AND 16TH

Owing to the lateness of the spring and the incessant rains, crops are late too and it was decided that in view of prospects it would be better to postpone the negro county fair, advertised for the 25th and 26th of July, until the 15th and 16th of August, according to L. A. Nash, assistant county farm agent who works among the colored people of his race. The exhibits would not have been well-enough advanced by the first date set, in the opinion of County Agent Nash. Large circulars will be scattered over Brazos and adjoining counties within the next few days advertising the fair.

LEONARD SCHOOL TOOK IN ABOUT $65 AT THE DANCE

Proceeds from the sale of tickets to the dance, and from the sale of peanuts, soda water and ice cream, grossed about $65 at the Leonard school house on Thursday night, according to Mrs. P. A. Tardy, teacher. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the school fund. A large crowd was in attendance and 45 couples were on the floor at one time, crowding the small room to capacity. The entertainment began about 8 o'clock and closed shortly after midnight.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN HONORING BIRTHDAY LITTLE ANNE SEALE

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Seale, 7 miles out from Bryan on the Hearne road, a number of little folks fathered to honor and celebrate the third birthday of little Miss Anne Seale, daughter of the host and hostess. A large cake was adorned with three candles. Childhood games were played until the children became tired when the cake was cut and ice cream cones and cake served to those present, who were: Mary Alice Saunders, Katherine Parker, Peggy Stuart, Ruth Gordon, Mary Ann Click, John Lawrence, Jr., John Parker, Bobbie Benbow and Anne Seale.

CHANGES MADE IN LATER REVISED LIST MEMBERS BRYAN COUNTRY CLUB

A later revision of the rolls of the Bryan Country Club, than that printed in Friday's issue, notes the following changes: The names of the following stock members in good standing were omitted: Dr. W. B. Cline, Dr. R. B. Ehlinger, Mr. George D. Halse and Mr. A. K. Short. Associate members omitted: Gabe Cazell, expiring December 15, 1924; Wallace Wilcox, expiring December 15, 1924; Dr. Lamar Jones, expiring December 15, 1924. The names of D. R. Adkisson, S. C. Williams, F. C. Oliver and Hillsman Wilson should have been omitted.

COUNTY AGENT BEASON AND H. D. CUYKENDALL OF EAGLE TALKED "SERVICE"

Acting on the subject of their talks, "Service," H. D. Cuykendall of the Bryan Eagle and County Agent C. L. Beason, in response to the request of Rev. H. C. Willis, pastor of the Methodist church of Bryan, motored out to Steep Hollow Sunday morning and talked to the congregation. Rev. Lawrence C. Upton of Millican, the regular pastor at Steep Hollow, was unable to fill the appointment on yesterday, and had written Rev. Willis, requesting the services of a layman on this date. As only a small crowd was present at the Methodist church, the visitors from Bryan first attended the Baptist Sunday school and then the few at the Methodist church were invited down to the Baptist building where the talks were made.

ROMANCE SURROUNDS LIFE STORY OF MR. AND MRS. JOHN B. HOOD, JR.

The transformation of a blue-blooded Yankee lass, born and reared in Boston, Hub of the Universe and center of agitation in the Northland during the pre-Civil War days, into a wife of a southern plantation owner and mistress over a big acreage in the heart of Dixieland, with a heart glowing with pride over the wonderful traditions of her adopted land and glorying in the principles and ideals for which the Southland entered into conflict with her sister states, is a story of the marriage of the woman of wonderful character and personality who is now Mrs. J. B. Hood, Jr., first to Col. D. M. Russell, who was the father, by adoption, of J. B. Hood Jr., son of the famous Confederate General, and later to the adopted son; changing her whole mode and manner of life, the location the tradition and all, and carrying on the work through two generations.

A Blockade Runner.
Miss Margaret T. McManus was a native of Boston where she grew to womanhood amid new England surroundings and traditions, travelled some in Europe, and it was not until 1911 that she met Col. D. M. Russell, when he was in Boston on a trip. They were later married and came to live on Matagorda Plantation, Jones town, Mississippi.

Col. Russell had, at the opening of the Civil War, enlisted in the Alabama Crack Rifles, but was rejected on account of the condition of his lungs. He then volunteered to go to Europe to buy shoes for the Confederate Army and run the blockade with them. He left the Confederacy through the New Orleans to Ft. Nassau, and thence to England. He went to London and it is said that he was in the House of Parliament at the time Gladstone recognized the Confederacy, which action England afterwards denied.

Historic "Big House."
Then he came back through Canada and took part in the St. Albans raid. His first wife came through both armies and joined him at Montreal. The last year of the war Col. Russell's father died and he inherited some money which he turned into land, purchasing 120 acres that is the nucleus of what is now the Matagorda Plantation of 4200 acres. When Col. Russell came back from Montreal, at the close of the war, he brought with him all his old slaves which he housed on his plantation. The old frame home that is still standing on the plantation is of much interest also. It was around this "Big House" that General Forrest had a skirmish during the Civil War. Col. Russell had adopted J. B. Hood, Jr., son of the old Confederate General, when the latter was but a lad. When the Colonel married Miss McManus in 1911, the boy was away attending school and college and later entered business that kept him from home. About 1915 the Colonel's health began to fail and the son returned to the old home to be near his adopted father. The end came in 1918 and the body was taken back to the old home at Gainesville, Alabama where a great funeral was held, all the churches, the schools, and the civic organizations taking part in paying a final tribute to one of their boys who had won for himself honor and glory in service of the Southland.

Scene From the Past.
It was in 1919 that J. B. Hood, Jr., and the widow of Colonel Russell were married. Col. Russell had remarked to his adopted child when the latter was a mere lad of about 8 years old, when he was planting pecan trees, "I may never live to enjoy the fruits of my labor in setting out these pecan trees, but you and your children will enjoy them," and the old prophecy has come true and John B. Hood, the third, mascot of the Hood's Texas Brigade, plays, among the trees and eats of the fruit, in company with his father and mother.

"To visit the Matagorda Plantation," says Mrs. Hood, "is like going back 65 years in the history of the South and visiting one of the old plantations as it was then." The policy of the Russells and Hoods has been to try and keep the old home and the entire place in the line of the plantation of the Old South and there you will find the old negroes in large numbers, living in comfortable homes, enjoying the community house erected for them where picture shows are given every Saturday night, where they hold their gatherings for festive occasions, weddings, etc., and where visitors to the plantation talk to them and they are made acquainted with the people who visit the Matagorda Farm. "And I like to think," says Mrs. Hood, "of the evenings when the darkey serenaders come up to the 'Big House' and entertain with their music and song." There are 1,000 negroes on the plantation many of them having been there for over 50 years. Three and four generations are there who have never worked anywhere else,—the old negro courtesy of uncovered head is there seen and appreciated by visitors. One of the old staff of house servants is 95 years of age.

Latch-String is Out.
"So," Mrs. Hood says, "It is a far cry from Boston to a Mississippi plantation, but from a native Yankee I have imbibed the feeling of the South, have learned its traditions and my life now is devoted to maintaining the plantation in true Southern fashion and according to the traditions of years gone by."

The Hoods are making every effort to securing the names of the members of Hood's Texas Brigade that, when the annual Christmas tree is held each year at the plantation for everyone, the same good cheer may be sent out to each Veteran of Mr. Hood's father's old command and they may receive some word of greeting like a message out of the past. They extend a cordial welcome to any and every Texan,—when in that section of the country, visit Matagorda Plantation where the latch-string is ever out and Texans will be welcomed for a day, a night or a week.

MRS. EDITH ANDREWS AND O. B. ROBERTS OF DALLAS ARE MARRIED

Marked by the charm of simplicity and in the presence of only a few intimate friends this morning at 11 o'clock at St. Andrews Episcopal church, Mrs. Edith M. Andrews and Mr. O. B. Roberts of Dallas were united in marriage, Rev. S. Moylan Bird, rector of the church, reading the impressive ring ceremony. Pink gladioli banked the altar and with the additional glow of many burning candles gave added beauty to the already beautiful church interior. Quantities of Shasta daisies basketed and attractively placed gave a floral background for the wedding party. Mrs. T. K. Lawrence at the organ played Mendelssohn wedding march for the bridal party to enter. The bride entered on the arm of the groom and they were attended by Miss Mildred Horton and Mr. C. A. Woolford, Jr., Dallas. The bride wore a becoming gown of beigeorgette fur for trimmings. Her hat, shoes and other accessories harmonized and she carried an arm bouquet of Kilmoryne roses. Miss Horton, the attendant, was dressed in a becoming gown of blue georgette, with hat and accessories to harmonize. She carried a sheath bouquet of daisies. Immediately after the ceremony congratulations and good wishes extended by the friends, the happy couple left on the noon H. & T. C. train for Denver and Colorado Springs, Colorado. The bride's going away gown was a tailored suit in blue with white accessories. Mrs. Andrews has made her home in Bryan for the past few years and has been connected with the A. and M. College Extension department as food specialist. A woman of splendid ability and high intellect, she has won for herself a large circle of friends who admire and love her for her worth-while and true traits of character. Mr. Roberts, the groom, is a young business man, and is recognized and trusted for his integrity, having the confidence of his business associates. Mr. Roberts holds the position of state specialist, rain and crop department, of the Hartford Insurance Company. He hails from Atlanta, Ga., but has been in Dallas for the past four or five years. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will be at home to their friends at Dallas, Texas, 3805 Avondale Avenue, after July 15th. Miss Margaret Stephens was the lucky one and if tradition has anything to do with it, she will be the next bride, for she it was who caught the bridal bouquet.

KEMPS ARE HERE FROM CAMERON TO REUNION
Jeff T. Kemp, county judge of Madison county, his wife, Miss Elizabeth McDermott, Mrs. Eleanor Boyd, nee Henderson, daughter of Tom Henderson of Austin, a cousin of F. L. Henderson of Bryan, and Miss Winnie Henderson, sister of F. L. Henderson of this city, spent the day here at Hood's reunion. Mrs. Kemp delivered, upon request of Miss Katie Daffan a tribute to former chaplain, the late Rev. W. E. Copeland. She had known him many years and was present at the funeral at Rockdale and described in detail to the old veterans, comrade of Rev. Copeland in the War.

J. W. PAYNE IS HOME FROM THE OPTOMETRISTS CONVENTION KANSAS CITY
J. W. Payne, local optometrist and optician, returned on the early morning train this morning from Kansas City and Chicago. At the former place he attended the sessions of the National Optometrist Association in convention. After its close he went to Chicago on a vacation and pleasure trip. He brought back several mementos of his trip and has been showing them to his friends, among them a picture of the new Union Station at Chicago, now under construction.

ANTONE KRENEK AND MISS FRANKIE HOYEK OF CALDWELL MARRIED

Antone Krenek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Krenek of Houston, who lived in Bryan all their lives up till about the holiday season, last, then moving to Houston to live, and Miss Frankie Mae Hoyek of Caldwell, honor graduate of the College Consolidated School this year, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Krenek, on Friday night, Rev. J. J. Tatum of the Free Baptist church officiating.

It was a formal wedding and the large number of guests, relatives and immediate friends. The best man was Joe Krenek, brother of the groom; and the bridesmaid, Miss Emma Sebesta, both of College Station.

At the Wedding Supper.
Immediately following the beautiful wedding service, the party repaired to the home of V. J. Boriskie, near College, where a bountiful wedding supper was served. Immediately following the supper, the bride and groom left for Houston by car where they spent the week-end, returning to Bryan Sunday night to make their home in this city with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Krenek on Leonard Road. Mr. Antone Krenek is a painter in Bryan for Joe Kaplan.

Present at the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Bohme of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sebesta, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turek and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Krenek, all of near College; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Krenek of Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Boriskie and daughter, Frances, of Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Boriskie, Miss Mary Stasny, Leon Stasny, Joe Krenek, Miss Emma Sebesta, all of near College Station.

MESSAGE OF GREETING FROM VETERAN'S WIDOW RECEIVED LATE TODAY

"Mrs. J. C. Jones, and children; Mrs. R. S. Dilworth, Mrs. Chas. Hoskins, Samuel, John and Elliott Jones, send most affectionate greetings to every member of Hood's Brigade," is the text of a telegram received this afternoon by Miss Katie Daffan, life secretary of the Brigade, from Mrs. J. C. Jones of Gonzales, Texas. Mrs. Jones is the widow of Dr. Jones, deceased, one of the most beloved of Hood's members during his life time and when he was a regular attendant at the reunions.

SMETANA SIDELIGHTS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle). SMETANA, June 27.—The farmers are about through with work. Some are planning a big time for the Fourth.

There are no ball game reports for this writing. J. M. Cahill visited relatives and friends in Bryan on Sunday. Tom Smith and Mrs. W. W. Hall of Bryan spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. W. W. Smith.

Mrs. Mollie Teague and daughter, Miss Bell, who has been visiting relatives here have returned to their home in Caldwell.

Messrs. Joe Holik, John Homola and Frank Krc motored to Bryan Monday.

Miss Albina Krc of Bryan spent the week-end with her parents. Howell Robertson, who was slightly bruised, caused by a horse falling with him while riding, is able to visit friends.

Miss Ella Robertson and Messrs. Frank Fuller, Jerry Smith and Howell Robertson were pleasant callers at the Cahill home on Sunday. Do not forget our annual barbecue, July 16.

EDGE EPIGRAMS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle). EDGE, June 27.—Many of the club women of this community attended the picnic at Fin-Feather Club last Wednesday.

Mrs. John Bennett and children, Frances and John, Jr., of McGregor, Mrs. E. C. Elliott and Mrs. John Payne of Bryan visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Elliott last Wednesday.

J. O. Orr and John Rychlik were Bryan visitors Saturday.

Miss Pauline Thompson and Pauline Beard of Bryan spent Sunday with their parents.

Miss Velma Moore of this community is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bud Closs, in the Taber community.

A. S. McSwain, a candidate for county clerk, visited in this community last week. While he was here Mrs. McSwain and baby visited Mrs. B. F. Moore.

T. C. Elliott, Floyd Moore and Roy Elliott were visitors in Bryan Tuesday.

P. S. Mangum, C. L. Beason and W. R. Persons came out to Edge Monday night to the boys' and girls' club meeting. They planned for the boys and girls to go to the encampment to be held at Fin-Feather next Friday and Saturday.

TABOR TIDBITS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle). TABOR, June 27.—Well, we were so busy last week that we failed to send in any news but we are still "on the map," however, and are working hard. We are about to get our crops cleaned out at last and if the sunshine holds out for another week or two, we will be ready for the picnics, barbecue, etc.

We did not have so many out for Sunday school last Sunday, but our B. Y. P. U. Sunday night was well attended and we are still gaining new members every Sunday. We are glad to have them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Locke spent last week-end at Donie, Texas, and were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Eula Beth, who has been visiting there, and Miss Mildred Nash, who will spend a few weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Closs and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gandy and families spent last week-end with relatives at Edge.

Mrs. J. M. Closs and family, who have just returned from New Mexico, have been visiting in our community. A number of our people attended the picnic at Fin-Feather Club last week, and report a nice time and a good dinner. Several others would have gone had it not been such a busy time.

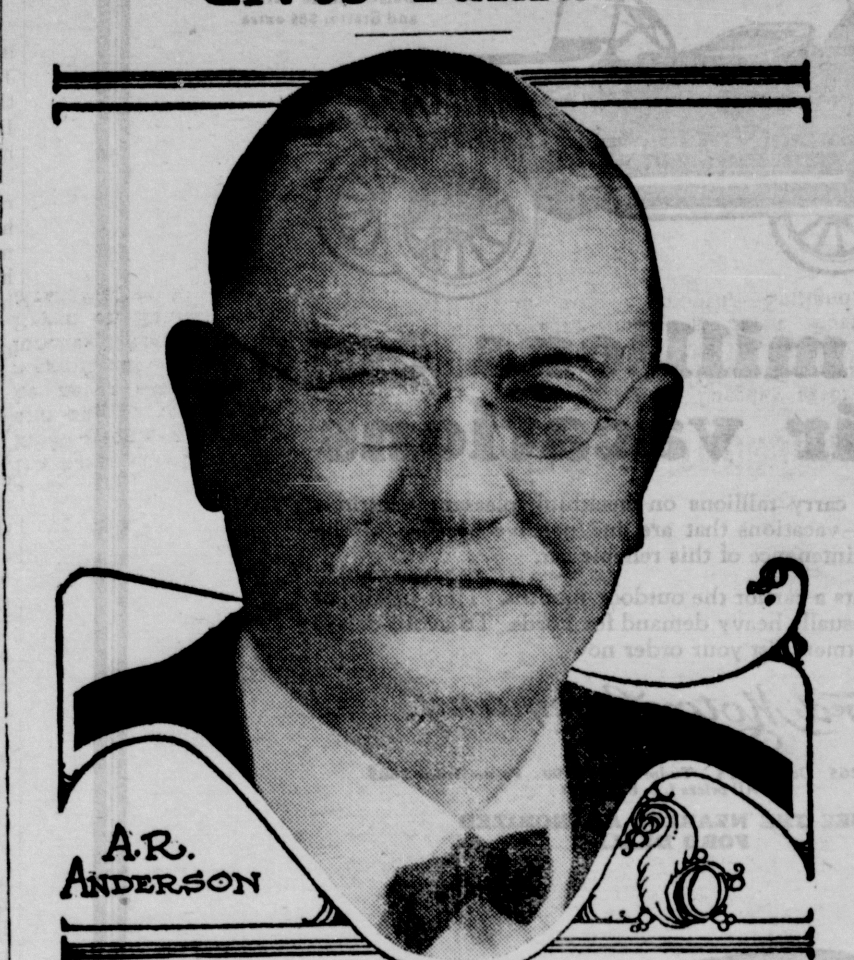

Next Friday night is club meeting night. We have some business to attend to, so we urge everybody to come.

VETERAN FROM COOK'S POINT TELLS OF SIEGE OF ATLANTA, GEORGIA

J. J. Pressley, Company "E", 38th Alabama Volunteers, Holtzclaw Brigade, Stewart's Division, Hood's Corps, Army of Tennessee. I served during the Georgia campaign at the siege of Atlanta. Some fool Yank, by accident or otherwise, put a minnie ball through my right leg in August '64, and I was yet on crutches when Lee surrendered. I came from Atlanta to Texas in 1874. I bought a saddle horse from Dr. J. C. Snow of Marlin. I rode over much of what was then the wild west and came back to Burleson county, married and settled down to farming. Have now in process of growth, the 47th crop on my place. I have been married twice but my wives were so good that God took them. Am now a good-looking widower with long, white whiskers and looking for another wife."

Ez-Sheriff Anderson Gives Tanlac Credit

Man Who Held Public Office Over 27 Years Says Medicine Restored His Health and Strength 5 Years Ago and Has Helped Him Keep Well.

"I said a lot in praise of Tanlac some six years ago, but not half enough, in view of what it did for me," is the high tribute paid the famous medicine, a few days ago, by Hon. Archie A. Anderson, ex-sheriff of Harris county, Texas, who resides at 1505 Austin St., Houston. Mr. Anderson is unquestionably one of the best known and most popular men that ever held public office in the "Lone Star" state. After serving as deputy sheriff of Harris county for 12 years, Mr. Anderson was elected chief of police of the City of Houston. He had occupied this office but a short time when the Sheriff of Harris county died and Mr. Anderson was then appointed by the Commissioner's Court to serve out the unexpired term of sheriff. He was honored with re-election as sheriff seven different times and served the people in this important office 15 consecutive years.

In 1912 Mr. Anderson declined re-election and retired to private life. He cast his lot among the people of Houston and is a large property owner and foremost citizen of this city. Speaking further of his experience with Tanlac, Mr. Anderson said:

"Before taking Tanlac I was all run-down and had no appetite. I had the worst form of indigestion and could not eat fried foods or pastries at all. I suffered all the worst sort of neuralgic pains and nothing seemed to help me only in a temporary way, until I took Tanlac.

"Then I read the statement of a Georgi asheriff, who had been relieved of troubles like mine. I just felt like I couldn't go wrong by taking Tanlac, and it has done even more for me than I expected. I felt better after the first bottle and the complete treatment of six bottles made a new and different man of me. I never felt better in my life than I did after taking Tanlac. And although five years have passed since Tanlac straightened me up, my health has continued good and my stomach as sound as a dollar to this good day. I am glad to endorse Tanlac because it does the work and does it well."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold. (Adv.)

W. J. COULTER LEFT TODAY TOUR EUROPE

Walter J. Coulter, one of Bryan's business men and world-travelled citizens, left today on another vacation voyage. He entrained this morning for Houston where he will embark at Port Houston on the De La Salle, French passenger liner, on Thursday morning, sailing to Plymouth, England. From the port of debarkation he will go to London by train, spend about a week there and then go to Paris for a two weeks' visit, after which he will spend until August 15 at some summer resort on the beach. He will sail for home via New York and New Orleans, spending about two weeks at the former city and a week at the latter, arriving in Bryan on or about September 15th.

LEE-COOKSEY WED.

Bryan and College friends have received cards announcing the marriage of Miss Kittie Mae Cookey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cookey of Turnersville, Texas, to Mr. Robert E. Lee of Breckenridge on Tuesday, June 17th, at the home of the bride. Miss Cookey, the bride formerly taught in the A. and M. College Consolidated Schools, and Mr. Lee was stenographer for the Extension Service Department of A. and M. College. Both have many friends in College and Bryan who appreciate them for their sterling qualities and wish for them success and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Lee will be at home after July 1st, at Breckenridge, where Mr. Lee holds a responsible position with the Breckenridge Traction Company.

MADISON COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION HELD NORTH ZULCH SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The singing convention of Madison county met on Saturday and Sunday in a two-day convention at North Zulch. The Vaughan Quartette from The Music Store at Jacksonville was present and gave some splendid numbers and singers and visitors were there from all surrounding counties as well as from the home county of Madison. About 2,000 people were there on Sunday and one of the Bryan visitors says he never saw such an ample and magnificent spread of basket lunches. Among those present from Bryan on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lindsey and children; N. L. Outlaw and daughters, Misses Mary, Oleta and Artie; and Oliver Wilcox. Plummer Taylor of Bryan was also there with a number of friends.

POWERS HOME COMPLETED

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Powers are today moving into their new home on West 26th Street, which has just been completed. It is a six room frame building with all modern conveniences of built in furniture, making an ideally planned home. This attractive new bungalow adds much to the civic attractiveness of West 26th Street.

R. S. WEBB ELECTED ONE DIRECTORS TEXAS RETAIL DRY GOODS ASSOCIATION

At the meeting of the Texas Retail Dry Goods Association recently held in Austin, R. S. Webb was elected one of the directors for a two year term. Mr. Webb served on the directorate for the past two years, and his re-election is a deserved recognition of service well rendered.

BURLESON AND BRAZOS COUNTIES SHOULD SOLVE PITTS BRIDGE PROBLEM

Ed Covey, wife, two sons, and Miss Lucile Christian of Bryan were guests of W. W. Rankin and family Sunday, having motored via Jones bridge on account of the Pitts bridge being out of commission yet on the Brazos county side as a result of a fifteen foot slide of the embankment adjoining the bridge. The Ledger believes both Burleson and Brazos counties would do well to move Pitts Bridge up to Mosley Ferry crossing about one mile up the river where the H. & T. C. crosses the river, as the embankment at the present location will continue to slide until some two or three hundred feet additional bridge will have to be built on the Brazos county side about the next overflow or big rise in the river.—Burleson County Ledger (Caldwell).

JUDGE DAVIS LEAVES SUNDAY FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION, NEW YORK

Judge W. C. Davis left Sunday noon for New York as delegate from the sixth congressional district to the National Democratic convention. "Am going to help put McAdoo over," said Judge Davis, "and am expecting a great time." Judge Davis was unable to leave with the Texas delegation for the Democratic National Convention at New York City last Friday on account of the uncertain condition in the convalescence of his wife who is in the John Seely Hospital at Galveston.

MISS FRANCES MIKE SAILS ON LA SALLE EUROPE THURSDAY

Leaving Bryan on Tuesday afternoon for Houston, Miss Frances Mike will set sail on the De La Salle on Thursday morning from Port Houston for Plymouth, England. From there she will go to Paris, visiting in France, Italy and Switzerland, returning this Fall to Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roberts and little son, J. C., Jr., of Bremond, are among the visitors in the city attending the annual reunion of Hood's Brigade. The father of Mr. Roberts was a member of the Brigade and since his death Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have made it a custom to attend each year, to hear the affairs of the brigade discussed and keep in touch with the beloved comrades of their father.

RALPH REYNOLDS OF THIS CITY MARRIES A GRIMES COUNTY LASS

Ralph R. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Reynolds of this city and Miss Leona Cone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cone of Roan's Prairie, Grimes county, were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage in Navasota, Sunday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Vance, of Navasota, officiating. The young couple were attended by Miss Lillie Belle Gilpin, of Bryan, cousin of the groom, and Miss Mattie Pearl Cone, sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds arrived in Bryan last night and will make their home for the present with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Reynolds on West 27th Street.

The groom is well and favorably known by a host of friends in this city, where he has grown to young manhood. By his high ideals and moral character he has won for himself a place of high esteem, and the future is bright before him for success. The bride is a young woman of many beautiful traits of character, and is highly educated, accomplished and of charming personality. She is a graduate of Texas State Teachers' College, Huntsville, and for the past two years has been a successful teacher in the Grimes county schools. The very best wishes of a host of friends in Bryan are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds for a long and happy life.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

Is a life time investment so momentous in importance to the woman of exalted business aspirations that to neglect the essential preparations would be considered by her a lamentable want of business foresight. To her nothing less than a responsible and high salaried position would be at all entertaining to her intelligent contemplation, while the little $5 to $12 per week places are left entirely to those whose capacity they fit, doomed incompetents whose great misfortune has been a failure to appreciate the opportunities gone by.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION Pays dividends to the end. At the top richly paying positions always await those prepared. For the three essentials, Thorough Results, Shortest Time, Smallest Outlay, enter the— BUSINESS AND SHORT-HAND TRAINING SCHOOL
